TURKEY SHOOTING.

The distance will be 200 yards, with rifles, at 25 cents per shot, nobody barred. The above pictures represent the style of turkeys.

CHICKEN SHOOTING.

These pictures are not hens, exactly, but will suffice to show the breed he will put up. The distance will be 45 yards, two shots for 25 cents, nothing larger than No. 6 shot allowed.

THROWING AT DUCKS.

Ducks will also be put up, for expert throwers to throw sticks at; ten cents per shot will be charged.

You will also get a chance at chickens with their heads out of a box, 30 yards distant, with pea rifles (22 caliber), 2 shots for a quarter.

An invitation is extended to the crack pigeon shots to try their luck at trap shooting. Matches and rules can be made on the grounds. Nobody barred in any of the above events.

MASQUERADE.

On Thanksgiving night there will be a masquerade at Wiggins' Hall, and costumes can be had at the hall. He has arranged to have a lot of new and attractive costumes on hand. Tickets one dollar, admitting gentleman and ladies.

ALL SORTS.

If this weather keeps up we will have some skating.

Yesterday was cold and windy and a storm seems imminent.

Ben Carler, of Reno, was in Carson yesterday on legal business.

The wires were down at the Summit yesterday owing to a heavy wind.

Henry Daugherty and George Richard returned from the Sink last night with some ducks.

The funeral of Edna Springmeyer in Genoa last Tuesday was the largest ever seen there; 71 vehicles were in line.

Hunt and Close came from Mariett Lake yesterday with 85,000 trout spawn. There are now about 550,000 spawn in the hatchery back of the Arlington. They report an inch and a half of ice on Mariett Lake.

The Ozark will open tonight under the management of Aleck Lamont, who proposes to make it a first-class saloon, stocked with the best wines, liquors and cigars. He invites all old friends to come have one with him.

The Student Record comes out enlarged and improved and announces the following staff: Charles Magill editor in chief, H. E. Stewart, exchange editor, W. H. North and F. H. Saxton assistant editors, F. C. Frey business manager, R. L. Osburn assistant business manager. One man fills all these offices and a few more on the APPEAL.

The serious illness of Mrs. D. E. Williams continues. During the past week she was taken worse, but appears to be a little better the past day or two. She has not been able to sit up or see anyone but the nurses since she was taken seriously ill, four weeks ago. Mrs. Williams is suffering from nervous prostration, accompanied by a very bad fever of the brain.—Courier.

If it is true, as the telegraph says that President Cleveland has a bodyguard of "powerful physique and determined men," who, "with revolvers in his hip-pockets and mounted on a fleet horse," keeps the Chief Magistrate always in sight when he goes out, let us hope that he will shift his shooting irons. Any Nevada or Arizonan could tell him that it was simply inviting suicide to coach a gun in the "hip-pocket." A sack coat or side trousers' pocket is the correct thing.—Post.

A Heavy Wind.

San Francisco, Nov. 17.—A gale of hurricane order swept over this city last night, doing considerable damage on shore as well as along the water front. The Hawaiian building at the Midwinter Fair grounds, which is in course of construction, was demolished by the wind. A number of ships broke adrift on the bay and created consternation by drifting about among the shipping.

The tug Ethel and Marion carried away her moorings and drifted against a wharf used by fishermen, wrecking a number of small boats and destroying the end of the wharf. A number of freight sheds along the front were blown down and the passenger landing at Sausalito was demolished.

The wrecked hull of the City of New York, which lies on the rocks near the Golden Gate, stood the pounding of the sea, and when morning broke was still to be seen with no apparent change in her position. The New York, however, is in comparative smooth water, being under the lee of the rocks. It is feared that the swell, which is sure to follow the blow, will place the wreck beyond all hope of rescue.

Funeral of Emma Chedie.

The funeral of Emma Chedie took place from the family residence yesterday, Rev. Geo. R. Davis, officiating.

The coffin was covered with flowers, and the choir, consisting of Mrs. Bender, Mrs. Cagwin, Messrs. Torreyson and Cobb, rendered appropriate music. J. P. Meder presided at the organ.

The pall bearers were Frank Helm, Frank Blethen, Frank Steinmetz, Chas. Peters, Dan Morten and Wil Davis.

At the close of the service Rev. Davis made a short and touching address on the life and sufferings of the deceased. The house was crowded with sympathizing friends of the departed, and a long line of carriages followed the hearse to the cemetery.

A Big Fire.

London, November 17.—A fire started at 1 o'clock this morning in W. S. Thompson & Co.'s corset factory, at 48 and 49 old Bailey. It spread rapidly to the Crown Perfumery company, at 49, and thence to Lockhart's cocoa rooms and Blackie & Co.'s publishing-house.

Before the firemen could get well to work several other buildings had caught fire and the rear of Cannon's publishing-house was in flames. Shortly after 11 o'clock a third of the frontage crashed down to the pavement. The firemen ran for their lives, several barely escaping burial in the burning wreck.

A column shot up 200 feet, illuminating the city and throwing into lurid relief the dome of St. Paul's and the spires of many churches. Enormous crowds gathered in Newgate street and Ludgate Hill. Twenty fire engines were kept at work throwing water on the buildings near the tottering walls.

The old Bailey Sessions House and Newgate Prison were drenched with water, which kept them from taking fire. Several times the report that the prison had caught was started, but every time it proved to be false.

The loss will amount to many thousands of pounds. The Cassels and the Blackie Publishing Company suffered considerable damage, but the bulk of their machinery and stock were not injured.

Pat Lynch.

Will the San Francisco Report please inform us when "Pat" Lynch, whom it described as a violent lunatic, was a member of our State Senate? And while we are seeking for information on this subject, we would also inquire of Sam Davis, of the Carson Appeal, why "Pat" Lynch, ex-California State Senator, "served a term in the chain gang in Carson, about a year ago?" Gentlemen, examine the California "Blue Book," and see if you can find any other Lynch in the list of State Senators, from the first session of our Legislature to the last, than Jeremiah Lynch; and Jerry Lynch is hardly the man who has been sent to jail as a vagrant.—Encinal.

The APPEAL don't really know whether Lynch was ever a Senator or not, but anyway he will compare favorably with a good many of the California Senators. We are positive, however, that he served a term in the chain gang, caused by his getting gloriously drunk and threatening to fresco the everlasting earth with the residents of this city.

A Great Sensation.

Lima, O., November 17.—One of the most disastrous bank failures Ohio has ever known was that of the First National Bank of this city, which crippled the Columbus, Luna & Milwaukee railway and stopped many private enterprises. President Faurel claimed not to understand the failure. It is now announced that he has unearthed a conspiracy to rob and wreck the bank. The Grand Jury will indict some of the leading citizens of this city, and the whole social and business world of Northwestern Ohio will be shocked by the developments.

Its Last Wiggle.

Let's see. Didn't somebody say a short time ago that the Republican party was dead. Seems to be a pretty lively corpse just now.—Elko Independent.

The Carson Tribune should have credited the above squib to the Free Press, not to the Independent. The "kick" the Republican party made on the 8th is only the last wiggle before its final dissolution. Its McKinleyism, monometalism, jingoism and subservience to Wall street can't save it from the wrath to come. It will soon be too dead to skin.—Independent.

COAST NEWS.

Extensive forest fires are raging on the Santa Rosa mountains, west of Murietta, in San Bernardino county. Scattered over the mountains are a number of fine fruit ranches, which are in danger of being destroyed.

Judge Rouse of Arizona has discharged J. O. Duabar, editor of the Phoenix Gazette, whom Judge Sloan several days ago ordered committed to jail for sixty days for contempt, on the ground that the judgement of Sloan was void.

John Williams, who robbed the stage near Sierra City on October 30th last and got away with Wells Fargo and Co's box, which happened to be empty, pleaded guilty at Downville November 15th and was sentenced to eight years in the State Prison at San Quentin.

J. D. Perkins, Pay Yeoman in the United States Navy, serving on board the United States coast defense monitor Monterey, was found dead in bed at Vallejo Wednesday morning, where he had been receiving treatment. A young man named Plymire slept with the deceased and was not aware Perkins was dead till he tried to awaken him.

A rancher named Peterson, residing near Ellensburg, Wash., bought a lot of supplies, including a bottle of liquid poison for coyotes. On the way home he stopped at a ranch a few miles from Ellensburg, took out some tobacco to chew and soon got sick. Looking among his groceries he found the bottle of poison broken. He immediately gave the alarm, but while calling for help he fell over dead.

A Deserted Mine.

The Arizona Citizens says: "The Silver King mine of Pinal county, in its time one of the greatest silver properties in the world, is now probably abandoned. Former miners of the property know where good veins are yet untouched, but generally they are impracticable to reach. Often they are behind waste stored in unused chambers, instead of being taken to the surface and thrown out on the dump. The King mine made several men rich and kept a large force employed for years. The mine was practically all developed with its own contents, no outside capital going into it. In the great hollow depths of the mine, where one may wander for hours, is a whole forest of timber. A former miner estimates that a million dollars' worth of timber is buried in the Silver King. It is hardly worth the removal, however. The same is the case with the engines. Their removal would almost offset their value.

It is said that Cleveland has a painful cancer.
